Florida Projects Management

Florida Construction Project Management uses a client-oriented construction project management approach. We apply this system to the management of scope, organization, quality control, cost and time. Through the life of a project, Florida Construction Project Management implements four major management functions:

- Planning: Objectives; roles/responsibilities; milestone plan
- Organizing: Define reporting and communication process
- Implementing: Communication; delegation; coordination
- Controlling: Report progress and variations; plan adjustment

Florida Construction Project Management client-oriented scope management transpires during all stages of the project. During Conceptual Development stage the scope is determining and documenting the best strategy in reaching the project objectives. This strategy makes available the Scope Statement of the project. As a baseline our Scope Statement usually include: project name, project charter, the project owners and stakeholders, the problem statement, the project goals and objectives, requirements, deliverables, milestones, cost estimates, project assumptions and risks and project acceptance criteria. During the next stage, Statement of Work we define the work activities, detailed requirements and pricing, standard regulatory terms and conditions. Scope Reporting stage is indispensable for scheduled status documenting.
